Colorado PERA Hires Deputy Chief Investment Officer

DENVER– Colorado PERA hired David L. Bomberger as its new deputy chief investment officer, a new position. He began his new responsibilities in March.

Most recently, Bomberger worked for the Nebraska Investment Council as the State Investment Officer. He has more than 30 years of investment experience.

Bomberger earned a bachelor of science degree in business administration from the University of Nebraska in 1977 and a master's degree in business administration from the University of Nebraska in 1980. He holds the designation of Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA).

"I am excited to join the Colorado PERA team. I am confident that my previous public and private plan sponsor experience will allow me to contribute to the Colorado PERA team. My family and I are looking forward to experiencing all that Colorado has to offer," said Bomberger.

Colorado PERA provides retirement and other benefits to 430,000 current and former employees of over 400 government and public entities in the state of Colorado. Colorado PERA is the 25th largest public pension plan in the U.S. with assets of $29 billion.
